National Science Foundation - Ideas Lab: Measuring “Big G” Challenge. This solicitation, found at the URL below, describes an Ideas Lab on “Measuring Big G.” Ideas Labs are intensive meetings focused on finding innovative solutions to grand challenge problems. The ultimate aim of this Ideas Lab organized by the Physics Division of the Mathematical and Physical Sciences Directorate at the NSF, in collaboration with experts in the field, is to facilitate the development of new experiments designed to measure Newton’s gravitational constant G with relative uncertainties approaching or surpassing one part in 100,000. The aspiration is that mixing researchers from diverse scientific backgrounds will engender fresh thinking and innovative approaches that will provide a fertile ground for new ideas on how to measure G that can be used to validate and extend current calculations. U.S. researchers may submit preliminary proposals for participation in the Ideas Lab only via FastLane. The goal is to develop multidisciplinary ideas that eventually will be submitted as full proposals. For more information, visit http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2016/nsf16520/nsf16520.htm. Deadlines: October 26, 2016 (full proposal)

• National Science Foundation - Improving Undergraduate STEM Education: Education and Human Resources. This program invites proposals that address immediate challenges and opportunities that are facing undergraduate STEM education, as well as those that anticipate new structures (e.g. organizational changes, new methods for certification or credentialing, course re-conception, cyberlearning, etc.) and new functions of the undergraduate learning and teaching enterprise. The IUSE: EHR program recognizes and respects the variety of discipline-specific challenges and opportunities facing STEM faculty as they strive to incorporate results from educational research into classroom practice and work with education research colleagues and social science learning scholars to advance our understanding of effective teaching and learning. Toward these ends the program features two tracks: (1) Engaged Student Learning and (2) Institutional and Community Transformation. Two tiers of projects exist within each track: (i) Exploration and Design and (ii) Development and Implementation. For more information, visit http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2015/nsf15585/nsf15585.htm. Deadlines: November 2, 2016 (Exploration and Design Tier for Engaged Student Learning & Institution and Community Transformation); January 11, 2017 (Development and Implementation Tiers for Engaged Student Learning & Institution and Community Transformation)

• National Science Foundation - Advancing Informal STEM Learning (AISL). This program seeks to advance new approaches to and evidence-based understanding of the design and development of STEM learning in informal environments for public and professional audiences; provide multiple pathways for broadening access to and engagement in STEM learning experiences; advance innovative research on and assessment of STEM learning in informal environments; and develop understandings of deeper learning by participants (National Resource Council, 2012). To achieve the greatest return on its investments, the AISL program encourages projects that will “raise the bar” in the fields of informal STEM education. It invests in projects that advance the leading edge of the field and address its most critical challenges. AISL proposals must articulate the value of the proposed work to the advancement of the informal STEM learning field beyond individual project impact. Thus, in making funding decisions, the program will place particular emphasis on the ability of projects to demonstrate the characteristics of knowledge-building, innovation, strategic impact, and collaboration. For more information, visit

• National Science Foundation - Major Research Instrumentation (MRI). This program seeks to improve the quality and expand the scope of research and research training in science and engineering, by providing organizations with opportunities to acquire instrumentation that supports the research and research training goals of the organization. The program emphasizes shared-use instrumentation that will enhance the capabilities of researchers both within and outside the proposing organization. Development efforts that leverage the strengths of private sector partners to build instrument development capacity at MRI submission-eligible organizations are encouraged. The MRI Program is intended to assist with the acquisition or development of a single research instrument that is, in general, too costly and/or not appropriate for support through other NSF programs. An instrument acquired or developed with support from the MRI program is expected to be operational for regular research use by the end of the award period. The program does not fund research projects, including research that uses an instrument acquired or developed with support from the program. The program does not support the operation and maintenance of facilities or centers. Proposals to the MRI Program, must be for either acquisition (Track 1) or development (Track 2), and must be for only a single, well-integrated instrument. A well-integrated research instrument means that the ensemble of equipment that defines the instrument enables a specific research experiment or type of research experiment to be undertaken; separating or removing an element or component of such an integrated instrument would preclude any experiments from occurring or succeeding. The MRI program does not support the acquisition or development of a suite of instruments to outfit research laboratories/facilities or to conduct independent experiments simultaneously. Similarly the MRI program does not fund common, general purpose ancillary equipment that would normally be found in a laboratory and/or is relatively easily procured by the organization. Further guidance on appropriate requests can be found in the MRI FAQs at http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2015/nsf15012/nsf15012.jsp. • National Endowment for the Humanities - Digital Projects for the Public. These grants support projects that significantly contribute to the public’s engagement with the humanities. Digital platforms—such as websites, mobile applications and tours, interactive touch screens and kiosks, games, and virtual environments—can reach diverse audiences and bring the humanities to life for the American people. The program offers three levels of support for digital projects: grants for Discovery projects (early-stage planning work), Prototyping projects (proof-of-concept development work), and Production projects (end-stage production and distribution work). While projects can take many forms, shapes, and sizes, your request should be for an exclusively digital project or for a digital component of a larger project. - U.S. Agency for International Development - Higher Education Partnerships for Innovation and Impact Annual Program Statement. USAID is seeking concept papers from qualified U.S. and non-U.S. higher education institutions (HEIs) to work with USAID to advance strategic priorities and objectives and achieve sustainable development outcomes, results, and impact. This Annual Program Statement (APS) has the flexibility to award Cooperative Agreements, Grants, Fixed Amount Awards, and leader with Associate Awards. This APS is not supported by specific funding, and any funding for any USAID-HEI partnership proposed under this APS would have to be requested from the specific USAID Mission, Bureau, or Independent Office with which the prospective applicant seeks to collaborate and to which the Concept Paper will be submitted. USAID seeks to optimize its relationship with HEIs by identifying and promoting successful partnerships and collaboration models, and increasing USAID’s access to higher education technical resources.     - Restrictions regarding previous Fulbright experiences have been lifted by the J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board. The board reiterated its strong preference for Fulbright Scholar opportunities to be given to candidates who have not previously received a Fulbright Scholar grant, as stipulated in section 624.2 of the Fulbright Program Policies.

- Spencer Foundation - The New Civics Small Grant. This initiative is embedded within the broader Spencer Foundation belief that cultivating knowledge and new ideas about education will ultimately improve students’ lives and enrich society. The designation “new” refers to an expanded understanding of civic education and its relationship to civic action. Ultimately, civic education is not simply a grounding in historical and procedural knowledge of systems of government, but, more broadly, as education, whether in schools or elsewhere, that develops skills, knowledge, and dispositions that lead to informed and reasoned civic action. For more information, visit http://www.spencer.org/the-new-civics-guidelines. Deadlines: August 1, 2016; November 1, 2016

- National Science Foundation - Robert Noyce Teacher Scholarship Program. This program seeks to encourage talented science, technology, engineering, and mathematics majors and professionals to become K-12 STEM teachers. The program invites creative and innovative proposals that address the critical need for recruiting and preparing highly effective K-12 STEM teachers, especially in high-need local educational agencies. For more information, visit http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2016/nsf16559/nsf16559.htm. For more information, visit http://www.neh.gov/grants/odh/humanities-open-book-program. Deadline: September 13, 2016

- National Endowment for the Humanities - Humanities Connections. These grants seek to expand the role of the humanities in the undergraduate curriculum at two- and four-year institutions, offering students in all academic fields new opportunities to develop the intellectual skills and habits of mind that the humanities cultivate. Grant projects focus on connecting the resources and perspectives of the humanities to students’ broader educational and professional goals, regardless of their path of study. Through this new grant program, NEH invites proposals that reflect innovative and imaginative approaches to preparing students for their roles as engaged citizens and productive professionals in a rapidly changing and interdependent world. Grants support the development and implementation of an integrated set of courses and student engagement activities focusing on significant humanities content. A common topic, theme, or compelling issue or question must link the courses and activities. The linked courses (a minimum of three) may fulfill general education or core curriculum requirements but could also be designed primarily for students in a particular major or course of study. The Humanities Connections program gives special encouragement to projects that foster collaboration between humanities faculty and their counterparts in the social and natural sciences and pre-service or professional programs in business, engineering, health sciences, law, computer science, and other non-humanities fields. Humanities Connections projects have two core features: 1. faculty from at least two separate departments or schools at a single institution must collaborate to devise new curricular arrangements; and 2. projects must include provisions for high-impact student engagement activities that relate directly to the topic(s) of the linked courses. These activities could include individual or collaborative undergraduate research projects; opportunities for civic engagement; or a structured experience with community-based, project-based, or site-based learning. Community organizations and cultural institutions can play key roles in this regard. For more information, visit http://www.neh.gov/grants/education/humanities-connections. Deadline: October 5, 2016

- Trust for Mutual Understanding - Grants Program. This entity awards grants to American nonprofit organizations to support the international travel component of cultural and environmental exchanges conducted in partnership with institutions and individuals in Russia and Central and Eastern Europe. Priority consideration is given to projects that involve direct, in-depth professional interaction, with the potential for sustained collaboration; that show evidence of professional accomplishment and innovation; and/or that respond to social contexts and engage local communities. For more information, visit http://www.tmuny.org/applicants/. Deadlines: November 1, 2016 (initial inquiry; full proposal due February 1, 2017)

- National Science Foundation - Major Research Instrumentation (MRI). This program seeks to improve the quality and expand the scope of research and research training in science and engineering, by providing organizations with opportunities to acquire instrumentation that supports the research and research training goals of the organization. The program emphasizes shared-use instrumentation that will enhance the capabilities of researchers both within and outside the proposing organization. Development efforts that leverage the strengths of private sector partners to build instrument development capacity at MRI submission-eligible organizations are encouraged. The MRI Program is intended to assist with the acquisition or development of a single research instrument that is, in general, too costly and/or not appropriate for support through other NSF programs. An instrument acquired or developed with support from the MRI program is expected to be operational for regular research use by the end of the award period. The program does not fund research projects, including research that uses an instrument acquired or developed with support from the program. The program does not support the operation and maintenance of facilities or centers. Proposals to the MRI Program, must be for either acquisition (Track 1) or development (Track 2), and must be for only a single, well-integrated instrument. A well-integrated research instrument means that the ensemble of equipment that defines the instrument enables a specific research experiment or type of research experiment to be undertaken; separating or removing an element or component of such an integrated instrument would preclude any experiments from occurring or succeeding. The MRI program does not support the acquisition or development of a suite of instruments to outfit research laboratories/facilities or to conduct independent experiments simultaneously. Similarly the MRI program does not fund common, general purpose ancillary equipment that would normally be found in a laboratory and/or is relatively easily procured by the organization. Further guidance on appropriate requests can be found in the MRI FAQs at http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2015/nsf15012/nsf15012.jsp. See also http://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=5260. Deadline: January 11, 2017

- National Science Foundation - Scholarships in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (S-STEM). This opportunity addresses the need for a high quality STEM workforce in areas of national priorities. The program seeks to increase the success of low-income academically talented students with demonstrated financial need who are pursuing associate, baccalaureate, or graduate degrees in STEM. The program provides awards to Institutions of Higher Education to fund scholarships, and to enhance and study effective curricular and co-curricular activities that support recruitment, retention, student success, and graduation in STEM. For more information, visit http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2016/nsf16540/nsf16540.htm. Deadline: April 20, 2017

- National Science Foundation - Integrated NSF Support Promoting Interdisciplinary Research and Education (INSPIRE). This pilot continues to support bold interdisciplinary projects in all NSF-supported areas of science, engineering, and education research in FY16. INSPIRE has no targeted themes and serves as a funding mechanism for proposals that are required both to be interdisciplinary and to exhibit potentially transformative research. Complementing existing NSF efforts, INSPIRE was created to handle proposals whose:
  - Scientific advances lie outside the scope of a single program or discipline, such that substantial funding support from more than one program or discipline is necessary.
  - Lines of research promise transformational advances.
  - Prospective discoveries reside at the interfaces of disciplinary boundaries that may not be recognized through traditional review or co-review.

To receive funding as an INSPIRE-appropriate project, all three criteria must be met. INSPIRE is not intended to be used for interdisciplinary projects that can be accommodated within other NSF funding mechanisms or that continue well-established practices. For more information, visit http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2016/nsf16023/nsf16023.jsp?WT.mc_id=USNSF_25&WT.mc_ev=click. Deadline: varies (before end of FY16 [U.S. federal government FY]) o National Endowment for the Humanities - Humanities Connections. These grants seek to expand the role of the humanities in the undergraduate curriculum at two- and four-year institutions, offering students in all academic fields new opportunities to develop the intellectual skills and habits of mind that the humanities cultivate. Grant projects focus on connecting the resources and perspectives of the humanities to students’ broader educational and professional goals, regardless of their path of study. Through this new grant program, NEH invites proposals that reflect innovative and imaginative approaches to preparing students for their roles as engaged citizens and productive professionals in a rapidly changing and interdependent world. What are the most common proposal compliance mistakes made by PIs? (http://www.nsf.gov/pubs/2015/nsf15116/nsf15116.jsp?WT.mc_id=USNSF_25&WT.mc_ev=click%20-%20q5#q5)

NSF has implemented new features for automated compliance checking in the FastLane system. A PI should check his or her proposal for compliance before submitting it. See Exhibit II-1: Proposal Preparation Checklist under Chapter 2.D of the Grant Proposal Guide. Below are some of the common compliance issues we have seen with DEL proposals.

- Missing Current & Pending Support form for each Co-PI and Senior Personnel. Each submission must include a declaration of all current and pending proposals of the PI, Co-PIs, and all other Senior Personnel listed on the proposal. The current submission counts as a pending proposal.
- The Biographical Sketch is not in the correct format. The Biographical Sketch:
  - Should be no more than two pages
  - Should be submitted for each individual identified as Senior Personnel
  - Must adhere to the Biographical Sketch guidelines. Information on the Biographical Sketch guidelines can be found in Chapter II.C.2.f of the Grant Proposal Guide.
- The References Cited Form should include only the works cited in the Project Description. This would include scholarly works, news articles, and websites. Do not provide website URLs in the Project Description. Links to databases and archives can be cited in the Project Description and the URLs should be provided under the References Cited Form.
Name and Address in registration systems are not identical. Your name and address in your SAM (System for Award Management) registration should be identical to that in FastLane. If your institution has made any submissions through Grants.gov, your institution will be registered in SAM. You can read more about SAM registration on the Grants.gov Applicants Step 2: Register with SAM webpage. If you are an individual applicant, you do not need SAM registration.

The institution does not have a Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number. To submit a proposal, your institution must have a DUNS number. You can use the Online DUNS Request Portal to receive one free of charge. Allow for several days to get your registration in DUNS complete. If you are an individual applicant, you do not need a DUNS number.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FROM FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

- Summer 2016 Student Research Projects Logistics: Arrangements are being made now! To finalize budgetary and living arrangements for students and faculty involved in summer 2016 projects, contact Tricia Contino (x8993) in Financial Operations for external grant support projects, or Angie Karas (x1392) for College/R&D-supported research.

- Ensuring that all awards and grants are duly recognized by the College and properly reflected in the financial records is important. All award funds should go directly to the College Advancement Office so that we can process them in Banner. The Gift Recorder (Jen Acuna) enters the funds in Banner so that they are recorded in College Advancement’s records and in the financial records in accounts restricted for that award. The College Advancement and Financial Operations offices work together closely to make sure this process captures all College awards. If you receive an award, please make sure to contact one of these offices.

- Cost Share Guidelines: If a proposal requires cost sharing, the commitment of institutional resources must be noted on the External Grant Notification/Clearance Form that is circulated among the senior officers of the College for approval. If the College receives the award that includes cost sharing in the approved budget, the College is obligated to record these costs in the financial records and these cost share expenses are subject to audit. Please be sure to discuss cost sharing with the Sponsored Projects Office and/or Financial Operations offices prior to submitting proposals.

- Every grant or award has a unique account number (called FOAPAL) to track activity specific to that award. These numbers are assigned by Financial Operations when award letters are received. Tricia Contino tracks activity in accounts and sends quarterly spreadsheets to Financial Managers for their information and review. As a Financial Manager, you have the ability to review real time expenditures via Banner Self-Service. Please contact Miriam McMechen to inquire about Self-Service training offerings and direct specific questions about finances on awards to Tricia.

- If you have recommendations about information that would be useful for managing your grants (additional analysis, open sessions, Banner training, one-on-one assistance, etc.), please contact Tricia Contino.
