Kirschstein NRSA Short-Term Institutional Research Training Grants from eligible, domestic institutions to develop and/or enhance research training opportunities for predoctoral students interested in careers in biomedical, behavioral, or clinical research. Many NIH Institutes and Centers use this NRSA program exclusively to support intensive, short-term research training experiences for health professional students (medical students, veterinary students, and/or students in other health-professional programs) during the summer. This program is also intended to encourage training of graduate students in the physical or quantitative sciences to pursue research careers by short-term exposure to, and involvement in, the health-related sciences. The training should be of sufficient depth to enable the trainees, upon completion of the program, to have a thorough exposure to the principles underlying the conduct of biomedical research. This Funding Opportunity Announcement does not allow appointed Trainees to lead an independent clinical trial but does allow them to obtain research experience in a clinical trial led by a mentor or co-mentor. This program will use the NIH T35 NRSA Short-Term Research Training award mechanism. For more information, visit https://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/pa-files/PA-18-404.html. The program provides organizations with opportunities to acquire major instrumentation that supports the research and research training goals of the organization and that may be used by other researchers regionally or nationally. For more information, visit https://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=5260. Deadlines: January 21, 2020; January 19, 2021

- Council for the International Exchange of Scholars - 2021-2022 Fulbright Scholar Program. To view guidelines, eligibility requirements, and detailed award descriptions for the 2020-2021 competition visit http://www.cies.org/us_scholars/us_awards/ or contact scholars@iie.org. Deadline: ~September 15, 2020
  - If I already had a Fulbright, can I get another one?
    - Restrictions regarding previous Fulbright experiences have been lifted by the J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board. The board reiterated its strong preference for Fulbright Scholar opportunities to be given to candidates who have not previously received a Fulbright Scholar grant, as stipulated in section 624.2 of the Fulbright Program Policies.

- Do you have your ORCID iD?*

  Have you ever searched for abstracts of funded grants or journal articles by an author with a common name, like John Smith, and been frustrated by the need to refine your search to eliminate the abstracts/articles by a different John Smith? Or have you tried to find multiple works by an author who has changed his/her last name several times? Databases and repositories have a variety of tools to mitigate challenges associated with same names and name changes, but a service increasingly used both by publishers and granting agencies promises to make the process easier. This tool is called ORCID (pronounced, though not spelled, like the flower).

  An ORCID identifier (iD) is a sixteen-character alphanumeric string that, like a social security number, uniquely identifies you as a researcher. Unlike a social security number, however, an ORCID iD is designed to be used publicly. Much like a grant award number identifies a specific project with a specific funder, the ORCID iD identifies scholarly work (for example, grant proposals/awards and publications) with a specific individual.

  Why register for an ORCID iD?
  Both funding agencies and publishers are increasingly using ORCID iDs to identify researchers. Currently, having an ORCID iD is optional for most agencies, but as more organizations rely on ORCID iDs as unique identifiers, it is likely to be required in the future. If you register now, you can list existing publications and/or grants in your ORCID record, thereby getting ahead of any future requirements.

  Can someone else register me for an ORCID iD?
  No. As noted in ORCIDs Terms and Conditions, “You may not obtain an ORCID ID and create an ORCID Record for anyone other than yourself.” (ORCID Terms and Conditions of Use, 2015).

  How do I register for my ORCID iD?
  You can register for your ORCID iD on this Webpage: orcid.org/register.

*Special thanks to Katie Plum, Angelo State University’s Director of Sponsored Projects for allowing the above information to be used/revised.

FOR NSF PROPOSAL WRITERS!
There are new NSF requirements for PDFs submitted via Fastlane and Research.gov, however this is NOT stated clearly in the Proposal Application Guide (PAPPG). NSF now requires document to be saved in “PDF/A” format, which is ISO compliant prior to upload. To produce a PDF/A document in Adobe Pro, click: File > Save As > More Options > PDF/A.

“PDF/A is an ISO-standardized version of the Portable Document Format (PDF) specialized for use in the archiving and long-term preservation of electronic documents. PDF/A differs from PDF by prohibiting features unsuitable for long-term archiving, such as font linking (as opposed to font embedding) and encryption.[3] The ISO requirements for PDF/A file viewers include color management guidelines, support for embedded fonts, and a user interface for reading embedded annotations.” https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/PDF/A

Public Access: Getting Started Guide
RESOURCE REMINDER: SPIN Grants Database

SPIN (Sponsored Programs Information Network) provides up-to-date information on current national and international government and private funding sources, including fellowships, research grants, publication support, sabbatical support, curriculum development, and more. Accessible to anybody on campus using Dickinson’s internet connection. SPIN is also accessible to anybody off campus after a SPIN profile has been established. If you would like to create a SPIN profile and receive summaries of grant opportunities based on keywords related to your research sent automatically to you by email, please contact Ben.

Check out the helpful SPIN training videos at https://spin.infoedglobal.com/Home/TrainingVideos (suggested browsers: Google Chrome or Mozilla Firefox).

If you find a funding opportunity using SPIN, notify Glen or Ben so that we can assist you with the proposal preparation and submission processes.

Grant reviewer’s suggestion: Faculty need to ensure that their websites are up-to-date at all times. Reviewers often refer to these websites when reviewing proposals.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FROM FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

- Ensuring that all awards and grants are duly recognized by the college and properly reflected in the financial records is important. All award funds or notifications of wire/ACH transactions should be sent to Steve Moul in Financial Operations for proper identification and to coordinate deposit and recording within Banner. After identification, the Gift Recorder (Jen Acuna) will then enter the deposit in Banner to the fund restricted to that award and records them in the college’s Advancement’s records. The College Advancement and Financial Operations offices work together closely to make sure this process captures all college awards. If you receive an award, please be sure to contact Steve Moul to assist you in ensuring that your funding is accounted for properly from start to finish.

- Cost Share Guidelines: If a proposal requires cost sharing, the commitment of institutional resources must be noted on the External Grant Notification/Clearance Form that is circulated among the senior officers of the college for approval. If the college receives the award that includes cost sharing in the approved budget, the college is obligated to record these costs in the financial records and these cost share expenses are subject to audit. Please be sure to discuss cost sharing with the Sponsored Projects Office and/or Financial Operations offices prior to submitting proposals.
Every grant or award has a unique account number (called FOAPAL) to track activity specific to that award. These numbers are assigned by Financial Operations when award letters are received. Steve Moul tracks activity in accounts and sends quarterly spreadsheets to Financial Managers for their information and review. As a Financial Manager, you have the ability to review real time expenditures via Banner Self-Service. Please contact Miriam McMechen to inquire about Self-Service training offerings and direct specific questions about finances on awards to Steve.

If you have recommendations about information that would be useful for managing your grants (additional analysis, open sessions, Banner training, one-on-one assistance, etc.), please contact Steve Moul.
